About ICI

Founded in 1982, the Indian Concrete Institute (ICI) is a leading non-profit professional organization in India dedicated to advancing concrete technology, construction practices, and related research.

Has grown from 500 initial members to over 16,000 professionals, including 400+ organizational members. Operates through 50 regional centers across India, connecting practicing engineers, academics, researchers, and manufacturers. Organizes continuous national and international seminars, workshops, and exhibitions to share industry expertise.

Dedicated Technical Committees draft guidelines, handbooks, and norms for specialty concretes. Members also serve on BIS codal committees. Works closely with government bodies (like CPWD and state PWDs) to adopt new infrastructure technologies. Maintains global ties through the Asian Concrete Federation and MoUs with international bodies like the American Concrete Institute and RILEM.

Runs over 320 Student Chapters to bridge the gap between theoretical learning and field practice, enhancing student employability through value-added courses. Strongly advocates for sustainable construction materials and techniques. ICI also recognizes industry excellence by presenting 16 awards annually and publishes various technical proceedings.

About the Seminar

Goa’s coastal conditions and rapid development demand durable, sustainable, and high-performance concrete solutions. This seminar explores key advancements shaping modern construction:

- Advanced Materials & Mix Design – High-performance, fiber-reinforced, and performance-based concrete systems
- Coastal Durability – Addressing corrosion, chloride ingress, and long-term performance in aggressive environments
- Sustainable Concrete – Low-carbon materials, green practices, and circular construction
- Construction Chemicals – Enhancing workability, durability, and protection
- Infrastructure Case Studies – Practical insights from coastal and urban projects
